NALC are lobbying MPs and in communication with the ICO and issued the following update on 19 March:-

"This week I wrote to officials in the Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport, Information Commissioner's Office and Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government in advance of a joint meetings they were having today and Monday on the Data Protection Bill and General Data Protection Regulation. I wanted to ensure they were all clear about our concerns about the Data Protection Officer requirement, the ways they can help mitigate the impact on our sector and our offer to work with them to find a solution. I also wanted to give you an advance look at the interview with the Information Commissioner, Elizabeth Denham, which features in the forthcoming Spring edition of LCR, this is attached; the overall message is don't panic!

My advice therefore is to hold off the appointment of the DPO for the time being and I will be issuing advice to all member councils once things become clearer over the coming weeks.
